A FREE 7-DAY DEVOTIONAL

They Said Yes Before They Felt Ready

Seven true stories from the field, one for each day, to show you that you can reach someone too.

"Go into all the world and preach the Gospel to all creation."

Mark 16:15

Everyone can reach someone.

gomovement.com

You don't have to feel ready. You just have to be willing.

Most of us wait for the perfect words, the right training, the moment we finally feel bold enough. The people in these pages didn't wait. A woman handed a stranger a bottle of water. A shy 16-year-old spoke up in an ice cream shop. A brand-new believer brought her friend the very next day.

None of them were experts. They were ordinary people who said one small yes, right where they were.

Over the next 7 days you'll meet 7 of them. One story a day. Each takes about five minutes to read, and each ends with one simple step you can try. No pressure to be perfect. Just an invitation to be willing.

Everyone can reach someone. → Turn the page and start with Day 1.

DAY 1

The Bottle That Changed Everything

CECILIA & WANDA

Wanda was walking toward a bridge to end her life. Then someone offered her a bottle of water.

Cecilia approached Wanda with water and explained that Jesus could satisfy the deeper thirst of her soul. Cecilia did not know that Wanda had been falsely accused of theft, abandoned by people close to her, and had reached a point of complete despair. That brief encounter led Wanda to choose life and begin a new life with Christ.

TAKEAWAY

We rarely know what someone is carrying. One compassionate conversation can arrive at exactly the right moment.

TODAY'S STEP

Pray for God to show you one person who needs hope today.

DAY 2

See The Person, Walk The Road

IRENE

At 25, pregnant and addicted, Irene was living among the tombs of a cemetery.

A GO Team met Irene while reaching young people struggling with addiction in a cemetery in Monrovia. Irene was caught in addiction and prostitution, but she said yes to Jesus. The team did not stop after the conversation: they provided food and clothing and helped her enter a women's rehabilitation shelter. She is now drug-free and following Christ.

TAKEAWAY

Sharing the Gospel also means seeing the person, walking with them, and helping them take the next step.

TODAY'S STEP

Pray for people trapped in addiction and for believers who will walk beside them.

DAY 3

One Moment Can Start A Lifetime

GABRIEL

Gabriel did not attend a conference or complete a long course. He was equipped in an ice cream shop.

When 16-year-old Gabriel saw Flo sharing the Gospel and praying for employees, he asked how he could do the same. Flo equipped him immediately, and Gabriel began putting it into practice that day. One year later, he was still sharing Jesus in everyday life, and videos of him praying for people had reached more than 156,000 views.

TAKEAWAY

A simple moment of equipping can activate someone for a lifetime of witnessing.

TODAY'S STEP

Ask God for the courage to take one simple step of obedience.

DAY 4

God Uses The Willing

LALA & THE STREET SWEEPERS

She had spent years searching for God. The answer came through two street sweepers.

Lala grew up in a Muslim family, studied at an Islamic school, and became a female mullah. During a season of pain and conflict, she had a dream directing her to speak with the street sweepers outside her home. The couple shared Jesus with her and continued meeting with her for prayer and Bible study. Lala came to faith, and the change in her life later influenced her husband to seek help and enter rehabilitation.

TAKEAWAY

God often works through ordinary believers who are simply willing to respond when someone asks.

TODAY'S STEP

Reflect: Am I available for God to use in the middle of an ordinary day?

DAY 5

More Than A Decision

DENILSON & THE YOUNG MEN

Seven young men came to church. The following week, they brought two more.

Denilson shared the Gospel with young men living on the streets. Seven later attended church and gave their lives to Jesus. They invited two more young men the following week. The local team now holds Bible studies on the street where they sleep and provides practical support while walking with them through addiction, alcoholism, and other difficult circumstances.

TAKEAWAY

Evangelism is not only about a decision. It is also about relationship, discipleship, and continued care.

TODAY'S STEP

Pray for someone you have already shared with, and consider how you could follow up.

DAY 6

New Believers Reach Others

RUTH & ROSE

Ruth had only recently met Jesus. Then she returned with a friend.

After Ruth came to faith, she brought her friend Rose to meet the local team. Rose heard the Gospel and prayed to follow Jesus. Both women received Bibles and were encouraged to continue growing together.

TAKEAWAY

New believers do not need to know everything before they can introduce someone else to Jesus.

TODAY'S STEP

Write down the name of one friend you could invite into a conversation about faith.

DAY 7

Come As You Are

NIKLAS

He thought he was too shy and too broken for God to use. Now he shares Jesus every day.

Niklas saw himself as an outsider. He was quiet, struggled with loneliness, and believed he was not the kind of person God could use. At one of his lowest points, he encountered the love of God and understood the invitation: “I love you. Come as you are.” That encounter did not only change how Niklas saw himself. It changed how he lived. He began following Jesus fully and sharing the Gospel in his everyday life.

TAKEAWAY

God does not wait for us to become confident, impressive, or perfectly prepared. He starts with who we are and with our willingness to say yes.

TODAY'S STEP

What has kept you from believing God can use you? Name it, then offer it to God.

GO MOVEMENT

Seven ordinary people. Seven yeses. Now it's your turn.

You just read what happens when someone willing meets someone hurting. The stories don't stop here, and neither do you have to. We send one short encouragement each week: a real field story, a simple way to share Jesus, and a prayer to carry with you. It's free, and it's built for people who are still learning, right where they are.
